PointStar Cloud Solutions — Refund Policy

Document ID: KB-POLICY-001

Version: 2.0

Last Updated: 2026-01-15

Owner: Billing & Customer Success Team

Status: Internal — for customer support reference only

> Note: This is a sample/dummy policy created for the Agentic Architect Challenge. The product categories and vendor relationships reflect PointStar's real, publicly known business (Google Cloud Premier Partner, Oracle NetSuite 5-Star Solution Partner, Cisco Meraki partner, JumpCloud and Zoom reseller — see KB-INFO-000), and the refund terms are modeled on standard industry practice for resellers of these platforms. Specific figures (windows, thresholds) are illustrative, not PointStar's actual legal policy.

1. Scope

This policy governs refunds for subscriptions and services billed directly by PointStar (Pte. Ltd. / Consulting Sdn Bhd / PT PointStar), across the following categories:

- Cloud subscriptions resold by PointStar: Google Workspace, Google Workspace for Education, Google Cloud Platform (GCP) usage, Oracle NetSuite, JumpCloud, Zoom, Cisco Meraki.
- Professional Services: implementation, migration, consulting, managed services delivered by PointStar's own team.

It does not cover charges billed directly by the vendor to the customer outside of a PointStar reseller agreement — those follow the vendor's own terms (e.g. Google's direct billing terms, Oracle's direct NetSuite MSA).

2. Refund Terms by Product Category

Refund eligibility differs by vendor, consistent with how each platform is actually licensed. Always check the category before answering.

Category	Billing Model	Refund Eligibility
Google Workspace — Flexible Plan	Monthly, cancel anytime	No refund for the current partial month; cancellation stops future billing only
Google Workspace — Annual/Commitment Plan	Annual, prepaid or monthly with 12-month lock-in	Full refund within 14 calendar days of initial purchase; after that, the commitment continues to term-end with no refund, per standard Google reseller terms
Google Cloud Platform (GCP) usage	Pay-as-you-go, billed monthly on consumption	Consumption charges are non-refundable once resources are provisioned/used; billing errors follow Section 5

Oracle NetSuite	Annual or multi-year contract, signed order form	Non-cancelable and non-refundable once the contract is signed and provisioning begins — standard NetSuite SaaS contract terms. Mid-term cancellation requests are always escalated (Section 6)
JumpCloud	Monthly or annual	Monthly: no refund, cancels future billing only. Annual: full refund within 14 calendar days of initial purchase
Zoom licenses	Monthly or annual	Same pattern as Google Workspace above
Cisco Meraki — hardware	One-time purchase	14-day return window for unopened/unused hardware; opened/activated hardware is non-refundable
Cisco Meraki — license subscription	Annual, tied to hardware	Non-refundable once activated, as license activation is tied to the physical device
Professional Services (implementation, consulting, migration)	Fixed-bid or time & materials, milestone-based	Non-refundable once work has commenced or a milestone has been delivered and accepted by the customer

3. Money-Back Guarantee (First-Time Subscribers Only)

- Where Section 2 specifies a 14-day window (Google Workspace Annual, JumpCloud Annual), this applies once per customer/organization for a first-time subscription to that specific product. A renewal or a second subscription is not eligible.
- Eligible refunds are processed to the original payment method within 5–10 business days.

4. Non-Refundable Items (All Categories)

The following are never eligible for refund, regardless of product or timing:

- Consumption-based charges already incurred (GCP usage, NetSuite overage fees, API usage).
- Professional services hours already delivered and accepted.
- Any subscription cancelled or refunded due to a confirmed Terms of Service violation, fraud, or a payment dispute/chargeback initiated by the customer's bank.
- NetSuite subscriptions past their contract signing date (Section 2).

5. Billing Errors

If a customer reports a duplicate charge, an incorrect amount, or a charge after confirmed cancellation, and this is verified by the Billing team, a full refund of the erroneous amount is issued within 5–10 business days. This is not subject to the eligibility windows in Section 2.

6. Cases Requiring Human Review (Do Not Auto-Approve)

A support agent (human or automated) must not approve or promise a refund outcome, and must escalate to a human Billing Specialist, when:

- The request involves an Oracle NetSuite contract (Section 2 — always requires Finance/Legal review regardless of stated reason).
- The refund amount exceeds USD 500 / SGD 700 equivalent.
- The request is older than 90 days from the original charge.
- The reason cited involves a service outage, data loss, or security incident — these are handled jointly with the Technical Escalations team and may involve service credits in addition to, or instead of, a refund.
- The customer's question references a product or refund scenario not explicitly covered by Section 2 of this document.

7. Refund Method & Timing

Refunds are issued to the original payment method only, within 5–10 business days of approval; bank processing may add 3–5 additional business days. PointStar does not issue cash or store-credit refunds.

8. How Customers Request a Refund

1. Customer emails support or opens a ticket via the portal.
2. Agent identifies the specific product category (Section 2) — refund rules differ significantly between, e.g., Google Workspace and NetSuite.
3. If the request matches an eligible case in Sections 2, 3, or 5, and does not trigger any Section 6 condition, the agent may draft an approval citing the exact clause used.
4. If any Section 6 condition is met, or the product/scenario is not explicitly covered above, the agent must not fabricate an answer — the case is routed to a human Billing Specialist with the drafted context attached.

This document is the authoritative source for refund-related responses. Any answer to a customer refund question must identify the product category and cite a specific section above. If no section applies, do not answer — escalate.
